

Application for Science Projects with Quixote Expeditions

Quixote Expeditions hopes to support science during each of its trips. We often travel to interesting, hard to get to places, that can be expensive and challenging for scientists to get to on their own. We can offer free room and board onboard one of Quixote Expedition's sailboats for the duration of the trip. Travel to and from the vessel is at the cost of the scientist. In addition permits, where applicable, are the responsibility of the scientist. Observations often require less permitting (if any at all) than sample collecting and restrictions depend on the country.

Please go to our website www.syquijote.com/trips to find out more about our upcoming itinerary. If you have questions about any of the trips, please do not hesitate to contact us at info@syquijote.com.

In order to be considered to participate, please fill out this application form below. In addition, please attach a CV and send together with the application form to info@syquijote.com. Please note that if you are selected, you will be required to fill out a medical questionnaire prior to joining the vessel.

First Name: _____ Last Name: _____

Street: _____

City: _____

State: _____ Zip Code: _____

Country: _____

Passport Number: _____ Country of Passport: _____

Date of Birth: _____ Country of Birth: _____

Languages spoken? Please list below.

Please indicate below which trip and/or trips you are interested in joining.

Quixote Expeditions

Below or in a separate attachment, please give a summary of the science you would like to carry out while onboard. Please include what type of equipment you would need to bring, what are the goals, what are expected or hoped for outcomes.